

The California Democratic Party likes us. It's Executive Board voted unanimously to call for a lowering of the voting age and for an Iraqi Children's War Memorial. My generation intends to support those who support us.

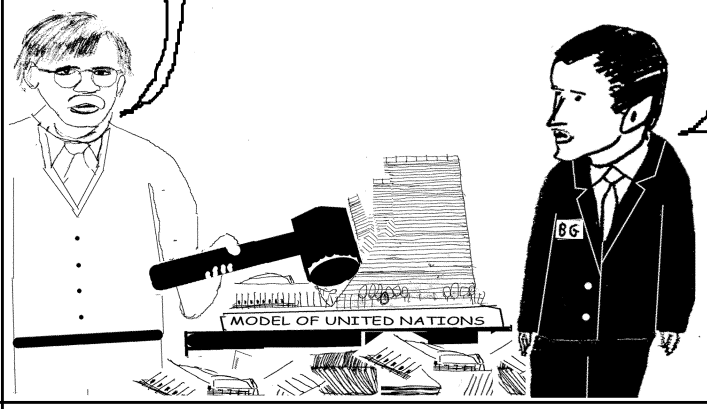

Why didn't we think of that?

Kids?
No problem.
We'll just send them off to war before the voting laws are changed.

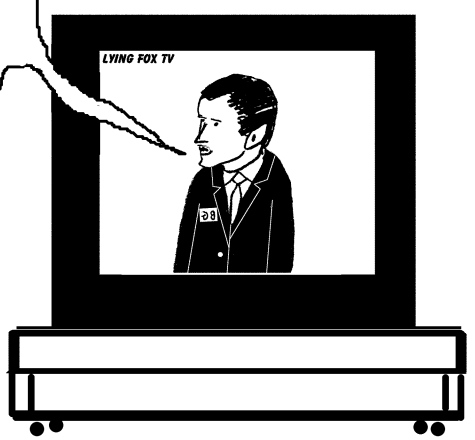

You can put away those models. Now you get to destroy the real United Nations.

Congress must be in recess. First, the United Nations; then the world; then to destroy the universe. Who says I'm not for progress?

And now for my highest quality nominees. For Secretary of Education, Jeffrey Dahmer. For Assistant Secretary of Homeland Security, Abu Musab Al-Zarqawi. For Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Osama Bin Laden. For Secretary of Health and Human Services, Charles Manson. For Postmaster General, Ted Kaczynski. For Secretary of Agriculture, Hannibal Lecter. All these will take office by interim appointments while Congress is on vacation. We all know that separation of powers was a bad idea - just like the Constitution.

The mother of one of the servicemen who died in Iraq is demanding to speak with you. She won't leave Crawford until you speak with her.

Go to your nearest costume shop, get a Bully George mask and tell her you're me. When has our administration been honest with the families of dead servicemen?
