

A witness came forward with absolute proof of Santa Claus's innocence and you killed him anyway. And what about the children? Their Christmas is ruined.

Don't cry kids. Arnold is rich. Since he terminated Santa Claus, he'll have to take his place. Just tell all your friends to send him the list of what they want for Christmas.

I killed him because he was innocent. If he had been a terminator, like me, I would've spared him. Next month, I plan to terminate the Tooth Fairy and the next month, I'll kill the Easter Bunny. Then I'll be my children's only hero.

This is it. The global warming is already making my hair frizzy.

I understand that water shorts out electronic equipment. Maybe if we deep six these remote controls, the Senators will stand up and say no to daddy.
