

Why wasn't I told that you shot a guy?

When you get older, we will tell you things. In the meantime, cover-ups are my responsibility.

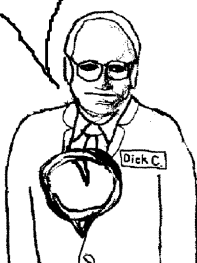

You aren't really going to execute the Easter Bunny, are you? There's evidence that he is innocent. And Easter is only a little over a month away.

Me, not terminate? If he were a terminator like me, I'd consider it. But innocent people? Who needs them? Did Heartless Dick give that lawyer clemency? That'll be the last time someone comments on Heartless Dick's poll numbers.

Relax Dick. Only Russ, Robert and Jim voted against the newly enhanced PATRIOT ACT. Storm Trooper Dianne was enthusiastic about it when we told her it would allow us to classify sick people as terrorists. And only Dennis, Jim from Washington, Ron and Pete voted against that resolution leading to the Iran War. The minority leadership of both Houses supports my agenda.

I'm not concerned about that. Whittington said that I shot him last Friday, not Saturday, as I told the press. Maybe, I should shoot him again.

Dennis and Russ, I've noticed this week that the two of you are the real leaders of the opposition to the new Reichstag. But no hard feelings. In fact, I'd like to take you both hunting. It's easy. We use caged birds with clipped wings.

I'm a vegan. Besides, do you really think that Russ and I are dumb enough to fall for that?

I'm game.
